PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Dear Members

2010, the Year of the Tiger has already got off to a roaring start and this will be election year for PPK Malaysia as well as for some other associations. It is time for me to step down as President after serving the maximum allowed term of 4 years, and this has given me some mixed feelings -- for a start, my tenure since 2006 has certainly been extremely hectic and full of exciting happenings and events !

The shopping industry in Malaysia has continued to grow with new malls making their appearances, despite recent setbacks, proving once again that we are tough and resilient and will make any changes necessary to strive and thrive as both landlord and tenants/retailers need to engage in a strong focal point to evolve through market forces. There is also no doubt that shopping will continue to contribute significantly to the economy as the vast 'multiplier' effect on employment, services etc. cannot be denied.

PPKM has performed very well over the years, thanks to the valuable assistance and full cooperation from the committee plus close collaboration from members. However, it is now time for all of you, as members, to start thinking of new personnel to inject into the committee. Whilst there is still an important role for the more experienced hands in the committee, we certainly look forward to bring together young, new blood to join them to lead our association into new pastures, so put on your thinking caps and select wisely, for the personnel you choose will guide our 25-year old association for the next two years (or more) ...

Just remember that even though the people at the helm may be different and the management style may change, we all share the same vision and direction as we have throughout the years. I will certainly give my full blessing and support to the incoming committee and will be ever ready to contribute my 2 cents' worth (and more!) when the need arises.

God bless and wishing you all the best, always.

Yours sincerely

JOYCE YAP
President

CURRENT ISSUES

Goods and Services Tax (GST)

The impending implementation of GST, put on hold by the authorities since 2005, now appears to be imminent. Members attended a briefing by the Ministry of Finance at Putrajaya on 13 January 2010 and again held a discussion on 24 February 2010 at Suria KLCC's training centre. PPKM now plans to take the following steps:

- to seek clarification from the authorities pertaining to GST and rental charges
- to contact the appropriate consultants to prepare a Memorandum to the relevant authorities and to seek members' contribution for a Joint Consultation Fund
- to work with other NGOs to request for payment on an annual basis and to seek a reduction in both corporate and individual taxation in order to counter any undesirable consequences on the economy.

We will keep you posted on further developments soon ...

Dewan Bandaraya Kuala Lumpur (DBKL) Guidelines on Kiosks in Shopping Centres

Several meetings have been held with DBKL since the beginning of 2009 and DBKL recently conducted a workshop to propose the introduction of regulations for kiosks in shopping centres in Kuala Lumpur and other Federal Territories (i.e. Putrajaya and Labuan) under the purview of the Ministry of Federal Territories and Urban Wellbeing. PPKM is in the process of submitting a Memorandum to the relevant authorities.

We will also keep you posted on further developments.

Building managers unite

The country's building owners and property stakeholders now have a recognised vehicle to address management issues

By Zoe Phoon

The Building Management Association of Malaysia (BMAM) has been formed – five long years after its initiators got the ball rolling amidst obstacles in their path. PPKM president Datuk Teo Chang Kok tells NST Property that the pioneer members of BMAM – previously known as Sibaers, Appraisers and Estate Agents Joint Action Group (VAEA-JAG) comprising registered associations, professional bodies and other civil society organisations – have come together as a cohesive body with the view to upgrade the quality of building and facility management in the country.

“Among BMAM’s objectives are to promote cooperation, goodwill and understanding between the building management industry stakeholders and to inculcate awareness and promote industry best practices. “We also plan to conduct education and training courses as well as publish journals in related disciplines of building management,” said Teo, who is also Property and Construction Committee chairman of the Associated Chinese Chamber of Commerce and Industry of Malaysia.

Meanwhile, BMAM patron secretary-general S. Venkateswaran said the basis for forming BMAM is to provide a multi-stakeholder approach to all issues pertaining to building and facility management.

“We recognise that building and facility management is multi-disciplinary in nature and should not be the exclusive preserve of any specific group. “All building industry stakeholders should have equal access to manage and maintain buildings countrywide.”

On the implications of BMAM on the current building and facility management scenario, he said they will be “broadly positive” because its membership will encompass all key players and as such a broad-based approach will bring positive results to the industry.

He also said the key issues – BMAM has to address include the need to take an “outreach approach” to inculcate all-round awareness among those in the industry, the need to develop coherent policy initiatives with the view to obtain effective representative status among policy-making institutions, and to draw up plans to enhance the quality and standard of building management.

“There are many other issues but these will be taken up in due time, such as the grey areas in the country’s building management and maintenance laws.” And now that BMAM has been officially registered, he said the next step is to recruit members, formalise admission procedures, hold a general meeting and elect the executive committee. The key stakeholders in the building management industry are chambers of commerce, developers, architects, engineers, shopping and highrise complex managers, agents, managing agents, retail chains, property owner associations, joint management bodies and management

No Smoking Regulations, Ministry of Health (MOH)

As members are aware, MOH has notified shopping centres that current regulations on the prohibition of smoking are applicable to all covered areas in shopping centres, regardless of whether these are air-conditioned or otherwise.

Again, PPKM will seek further consideration in view of existing air fresco outlets in many of our shopping centres.

HAPPENINGS

SEMINARS, CONFERENCES & EVENTS

Priceless Gems of Creativity, 7-8 December 2009

PRICELESS GEMS OF CREATIVITY
 The Cutting Edge Differentiation

We 'created' the recent seminar at One World Hotel, looking at what's new and different in shopping centres, from the outside in, from building designs and layout, to retail window displays and mall décor, to events and promotions.

▲ Always creative, always innovative – at the inimitable opening gimmick

• Mr Richard Chan

• Mr HC Chan

• Mr NY Ngeow

• Dato CK Teo

• Ms Joyce Yap

• Mr KC Loh

• Mr Kumar Tharmalingam

▲ Our distinguished moderators

▼ Speakers creating the excitement...

The many renown international designers and architects like Benoy Architects and a 'cybertect' from Hong Kong together with other industry experts, VM artists who combine originality with novelty, creativity with innovation and even efficiency with productivity made it an event to remember.

1. Mr Adam Mathews · 2. Mr Simon Biore · 3. Mr Mark Lee · 4. Dr Valerie Wilson Trower · 5. Mr James Law · 6. Mr Kevin Tan · 7. Mr Bruce Head · 8. Mr Benjamin Lau · 9. Mr George Ang · 10. Mr Edward Tang · 11. Mr Tan Peng Han · 12. Mr Sonny San · 13. Mr Toshiya Tanaka · 14. Mr Robin Kok · 15. Ms Mayu Suzuki · 16. Ms Kung Suan Ai · 17. Ms Evelyn Lo · 18. Ms Jenny Chan

Participants certainly learnt what's new, what's now, what's hip and what's hot !
P.S. as they say, the photos tell a thousand words ...or more!

▼ PPKM's events mean networking and having a fun time whilst learning from the industry 'gurus'!

▼ Sometimes, shopping is serious business, too

▼ Closing with a song, 1Malaysia : 'We go up, never go down, We go up together'

▼ Good job, well done, everybody !!

ACCIM Conference on 1Malaysia: New Economic Model

Our President, Ms Joyce Yap, joined the list of luminary speakers at the above conference held from 8-9 February 2010 at Kuala Lumpur Conference Centre which was officiated by Y.A.B. Dato Sri Mohd. Najib Tun Razak, Prime Minister of Malaysia. During the session Private Sector's Expectation to New Economic Model, she presented a current overview of the shopping industry scenario in Malaysia and its importance to our country's economy, with emphasis on the need for strategic action plans in order to remain competitive in the region.

▶ Kung Suan Ai, (CMM)

Certified Marketing Manager

PPK Malaysia's certification courses enable shopping centre management personnel to proactively engage in the workshops, exchange ideas and adopt new perspectives for today's dynamic marketing environment.

▶ Mohamad Nazib B Suliman, (CMM)

Certified Marketing Manager

These certification courses were made available for professionals to garner recognition by a panel made up of industry experts in Malaysia.

Also, it provides an interesting platform to learn, exchange views, share knowledge, expand your network base of highly experienced individuals and at the same time receive first-hand information from the "who's who" of the industry.

Be part of the community, it is worth every penny!

▶ Vincent Chong, (CCM)

Certified Complex Manager

Managing a shopping centre requires multi skills and disciplines. The PPK certification courses brings you on a journey to facilitate the learning and understanding of managing one with the presenters also sharing their thoughts and experiences too!

▶ Phoon Kin Kheong, (COM)

Certified Operations Manager

The course has benefited me by gaining insight on practical property management, acquiring useful maintenance management knowledge and keeping abreast with latest technologies & development in environmental issues. These will equip me with the practical strategy to manage property in a more efficient manner.

▶ Angeline Yee, (CCM)

Certified Complex Manager

PPK Courses do not only provide the platform for individuals to learn, build and obtain the proper recognition for management of shopping centres, but they also become part of the privileged network to share laughter and joy, sweat and tears while we face shopping centre challenges in defusing all sorts of active time bombs...

▶ Yakop Haron, (COM)

Certified Operations Manager

I am grateful that the Certification Course speakers and 'gurus' are willing to share with and impart their knowledge to us so that we may learn from their exposure and experience.

▶ Lovell Ho, (CMM)

Certified Marketing Manager

The certification courses have opened up my horizons and given me the opportunity to view shopping management from a bigger perspective.

Talk at Berjaya University College of Hospitality

Ms Joyce Yap was invited to present a talk on YES, Shopping is a career! to college students on 17 December 2009 for their session on Be Bold: Dare to explore the Dynamism of Retailing. This was an eye-opener for the students as most thought shopping is just another leisure activity ...

Malaysia Year End Sale (MYES) 2009

The Best Decorated Window Competition and the MYES Shopping Centre Awards 2009 coordinated by PPKM with the theme A Fabulous Tropical Christmas, MYES! were participated by 61 retailers and 9 participating shopping centres respectively. There were 2 categories for shopping centres i.e. CBD and Suburban and participants were evaluated for the Best in Thematic Decorations and Best in Promotions and Events for each category.

Congratulations to all the commendable winners and a word of appreciation to all participants!

▲ A Chipmunks Christmas @ Mines

▲ IOI Mall, Puchong believes that charity begins at home

▲ An all-French atmosphere with a tropical twist at Sunway Pyramid's Magnifique Christmas, winner for both awards in the Suburban Category

▲ A Merry Magical Christmas at Mid Valley Megamall garnered the Best in Promotions and Events (CBD category)

▲ Santa Claus comes to The Sphere at Bangsar South

▲ Glittering presents hung aglow at Bangsar Village

▲ Bangsar Village II goes creative with décor from recycled items

▲ Shoppers are welcomed by swans at Sungei Wang Plaza

▲ Pavilion Kuala Lumpur goes 'royale' with its plush décor, winning the Best in Thematic Decoration (CBD category)

▲ The winning department store: Tang's Pavilion Kuala Lumpur

▲ Fiorucci, The Gardens garnered the award for specialty shops

Corporate Social Responsibility: Community Project

Representatives from PPKM presented a 'roaring' appreciation for senior citizens and spent a pleasant morning on Sat 23 January 2010 getting to know the 45 senior citizens at Rumah Sejahtera, Jelapang, Ipoh. The Lion Dance, courtesy of Ipoh Parade Shopping Centre, certainly brought a few "roars" in their normally quiet routine. Together with a contribution of RM4,000 from PPKM plus additional contributions in cash and kind from several individual members, PPKM hopes the seniors' quality of life will be just a bit more improved.

Nevertheless, the mixed group of over 60's had a fun time during the lunch sponsored by PPK Malaysia and were sprightly enough to join us in a karaoke and music session! According to Mr Gordon Choo, Secretary and Principal of the Majlis Pusat Kebajikan Semenanjung Malaysia Cawangan Daerah Ipoh, who runs the home and himself a very spry 80+, only senior citizens without immediate families and means of support may be admitted to the Home. Rumah Sejahtera is a well-run home, clean and well ventilated and the inmates were certainly in good spirits!
